

PREFACE

SENIOR HIGH CORE COLLECTION is a selective list of books recommended for grades nine through twelve, together with professional aids for librarians and library media specialists. This list is available in full as an EBSCOhost database, updated weekly. Printed versions are published approximately every two years and contain Most Highly Recommended and Core Collection books, the top recommended titles in the database. Additional metadata for these titles, plus book reviews and all of the Supplementary and Archival Materials levels, appear only in the database available via EBSCO. Go to www.ebsco.com/products/research-databases/core-collections for more information or for a trial.

What's New in this Edition?

The twenty-first edition includes more than 8,200 book titles. This volume includes a generous selection of graphic novels, and a more comprehensive collection of recommended graphic novels can be found in GRAPHIC NOVELS CORE COLLECTION on EBSCOhost.

History

The first edition of the Collection was published in 1926 as an author-title list, followed by a fuller version in 1928 that also included a subject index and analytical entries. After the appearance of the second edition in 1932 the Collection was published regularly every five years. Initially it was called Standard Catalog for High School Libraries, but when Junior High School Library Catalog (now Middle and Junior High Core Collection) was introduced in 1965, its scope was changed. It became Senior High School Library Catalog in the ninth edition, published in 1967. With the seventeenth edition in 2007 the title was changed to Senior High Core Collection.

Scope

The collection includes, titles that are considered “most highly recommended.” These titles constitute a short list of the essential books in a given category or on a given subject. There are often a number of recommended titles on a single subject, and the shortlist designation helps a user who wants only one or two. A star (★) at the start of an entry indicates that a book is a “most highly recommended” title. All books listed are published in the United States, or published in Canada or the United Kingdom and distributed in the United States.

The Core Collection excludes the following: non-English-language materials, with the exception of bilingual materials, dictionaries, and similar items; works of adult fiction other than books originally written for adults but read by young people or books widely used in the curriculum; textbooks; and books about individual computer programs or versions of programs, and other topics that quickly become outdated.

Beginning with the printing of the nineteenth edition, the collection also excludes most works widely known as “classic literature.” This was done as an effort to both save space, and to concentrate on recommending titles that are perhaps less well-known. Additionally, extensive conversations with high school librarians indicated that additions of classics to the collection were primarily based on local curricula, not on recommendations from the Core Collection. While some classics remain in the print collection, the removed titles can still be found in the full EBSCOhost database under the Recommendation Levels “Supplementary Materials” and “Archival.”

Preparation

Books included in this edition were selected by experienced librarians representing public library systems and senior high libraries across the United States who also act as a committee of advisors on library policy and trends. The names of participating librarians and their affiliations are listed in the Acknowledgments. EBSCO invites feedback from Core Collections customers at corecollections@ebsco.com.
